I GET UP is a video and performance exhibition involving unhoused clients at First Base Day Centre, RAPT Theatre, Dr Roberta Piazza (Sussex University) and RBD Design.

A series of films were created with individuals, all who have experience of homelessness, which explored their lives in the city and their sense of selfhood.

Over three months, the group shared stories, food and thoughts about the world in order to create a series of films which are fragmentary, honest and revealing.
